OXFORD COUNTY STUDENTS WON HONORS AT ORONO

Oxford County High School agricultural club secured off all three of the cups in the second annual contest of agricultural students from high schools in the state, held at the University of Maine.

South Paris High School boys won the grand championship cup for the highest total score in all events. They also won the cup for the best score in judging potatoes.

The Norway boys brought home the cup for first place in cattle judging, showing up especially well in the Holstein class. In order to retain the cups, they must triumph two times more in their particular event, which is a difficult task with some 16 or 18 competitors.

Heron High School was second in the total score. Willson Academy was third, Stephens High of Rumford was fourth and Norway High fifth.

RIGHT MAN FOR THE PLACE

H. C. Prince of the Madison Bulletin says, regarding Arthur Gould and his candidacy for the U. S. Senate:

"Believing in the idea of choosing a successful business man to succeed the late Senator B. M. Fernald, and also believing that the eastern section of Maine is entitled to one of our senators, we wish to say a good word for Mr. Arthur B. Gould of Presque Isle and shall support him for nomination at the primary in November."

Mr. Gould has risen from a poor boy to one of the big business men of the state, and so far as we are able to learn, honest and fairly. We are informed by present and former residents of Aroostook county that he is one of the most popular men in that section and with far fewer enemies than is usually the case when a man forges ahead of his fellows."

We agree with Mr. Prince in all the above, but cannot vote for him in the primary as we are a Democrat, but Uncle Lem can.

A Cry for Help

City Dweller Tells How Our Apples are Needed and Asks Oxford County to Supply the Need

Editor of Norway Advertiser: Please let me do a little commenting on a text found in your paper of the date of October 15. The last item in the South Albany news on page 7 read:

"The farmers are undecided about picking their apples as there seems to be no sale for them and as wages are high, it hardly pays."

That is annoying to one who like me, this very day on which I discover the item, has paid 35 cents for five pounds of apples and had to carry them to my own door myself, because the delivery would cost four or five cents more. Not that I object to carrying bundles, for I do it as readily as, in my days as printer's devil, I used to trundle newspapers and other printing office products about Norway village in a wheelbarrow. But the people who buy on the store delivery plan pay more than I did, and I paid at the rate of $2.00 per bushel. These apples would be graded as sort of a mixture of Numbers 1 and 2, according to the practice in vogue when I left Norway a quarter of a century ago.

The five pounds of apples happened to come from Pennsylvania, but might have come across the continent. At a less distance away, the Norway Advertiser reports that there is no little market for apples that "the farmers are undecided about picking their apples."

What is the trouble? The producers certainly want to know the answer to that question. So do we consumers want to know.

I asked a good friend of mine who is proprietor of several fruit stands in Boston and suburbs. He is a nervous and quick-speaking Italian, a shrewd business man who is steadily doing an increasing business and who can draw a check requiring five figures before the decimal mark is reached, and have that check honored at the bank. In his broken English he answered:

"Most people in Maine want me take apples their way; I do the paying; I take them my way; I pay them do it my way."

That is the criticism of the buver. It is business-like to prepare a product the way that the customer wants it.

Consider what the buyers want. My Italian friend wants apples that he can sell quickly. His business success depends on turning his stock into cash as fast as possible. If somebody does not understand that expression, "turning his stock," my merchant in Norway village can explain it.

Waterford to Have More Camps—Special Meeting of Keoka Chapter, O. E. S.—Children's Night at Grange—To Screen Bear Pond—Watson Mill Burned Saturday.

George H. Bennett of West Bethel was a visitor at Mrs. A. A. Monroe's, on Saturday.

Dr. Harry W. Watson came to visit his mother, on Friday. He brought Mrs. Ella F. Roberts of Putney, Vt., who is to stay with Mrs. Watson. Mrs. Bertha F. Libby of Vineland, N. J., who has been staying with Mrs. Watson, returned with Dr. Watson, on Saturday.

John Wellstone, Higgins, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Haggood, Mrs. Pearl Bradbury and Lillian Kimball helped Miss Monroe make the costumes for the opera, "Let's Go Traveling," which the Sunshine Singing Club are to present in the near future.

Mrs. Monroe got a dinner for the jolly party. Mrs. Haggood, Mrs. Riggs and Mrs. Clark came back Thursday afternoon, to finish off the task. This help was greatly appreciated, for so many costumes for just two to make would have been a task.

We expect in the near future a hard-surfaced road from Bridgton through Waterford to Norway, as we have no doubt that the commission will lay the road where the greatest number of people will be benefited.

We understand that the farms of Fred Skinner and K. E. Pulkett have been sold for more camps. This will make eleven boys' and girls' camps in Waterford.

The Keoka Chapter, O. E. S., held a special meeting for inspection in masonic hall, Waterford, on Tuesday. A fine supper was served at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Mills was inspecting officer. It was a fine meeting with several visitors from Lovell and Mrs. Libby of Vineland, N. J.

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean of Day and Evening Schools, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

Lesson for October 24

JOSHUA, ISRAEL'S NEW LEADER

LESSON TEXT—Num. 27:18-20; Josh. 1:1-9.

GOLDEN TEXT—Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Joshua the New Leader.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Task of Joshua.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Secret of a Strong and Useful Life.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Preparation for True Service.

The book of Joshua, from which our lesson is taken, is a history of the conquest of the promised land and its division among the tribes of Israel. It takes its name from its principal character, Joshua.

I. Joshua, the New Leader of Israel (Num. 27:18-20).

The people were not to be left in doubt as to a leader when Moses was gone. The leader was to be appointed and given recognition before all the congregation.

During the wilderness journey Joshua was Moses' minister and the captain of his army. When Moses was denied the privilege of going over the Jordan, Joshua was appointed to the leadership of Israel. Moses, the representative of the law, brought Israel to the borders of Canaan. Joshua was the man chosen to lead the people into the place of rest. The name "Joshua" has the same derivation as the name "Jesus."

II. Joshua Commanded to Take Charge (Josh. 1:2).

Moses was dead, but God's word must go on, therefore God issued the command for the new leader to assume his duty.

III. God Renews His Promise to Israel Concerning the Land (Josh. 1:3, 4).

This promise had been given to Abraham and renewed to Isaac, Jacob and Moses. It is now renewed to Israel as they were about to enter upon its possession. The borders of the land were "from the wilderness and this Lebanon even unto the great river, the River Euphrates, all the land of the Hittites, and all the great sea toward the going down of the sun." The nearest this territory was ever possessed was during the reign of David and Solomon, though not then fully realized. This land still belongs to the Jews, and in God's own time they shall possess it. Their possession of this land was due entirely to themselves. God promised them that wherever their feet stood upon the land it was theirs.

IV. God's Presence Promised (Josh. 1:5).

Joshua was entering upon a perilous and difficult enterprise, but the Lord said as He was with Moses, so He would be with him. The difficulties before him were:

1. The Jordan river (v. 2).

This river was now at its flood (Josh. 3:15), making it impossible for armies to cross.

2. The people were living in walled cities (Num. 13:28).

Notwithstanding this, God was ready to insure success.

(1) "I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee" (v. 5).

(2) "There shall not any man be able to stand before thee."

(3) "As I was with Moses, so I will be with thee." Joshua had been with Moses throughout their forty years' experience from the Egyptian deliverance to the time of his death. Because he believed that God was with his master, he was willing and ready to cross the Jordan at its floodtide and courageously meet the enemies on the other side.

V. Conditions of Blessing in the Land (Josh. 1:6-9).

1. "Be strong and of good courage" (v. 6).

His mission was to go in and divide the land among the tribes for an inheritance. It required strength and courage to do this.

2. "Unwavering obedience to the Word of God" (v. 7).

In a land of idolatry it required much courage to be true to God. Prosperity and success were conditioned upon unwavering obedience to God's commands. In all his work he must conform his life to the law of God. To pass from the path outlined there would bring disaster and ruin. In order to accomplish this the law of the Lord must be in his mouth continually. He was to meditate therein day and night.

Joshua rendered prompt obedience, he did not stop to cavil, but at once gave order for the march. God made the plan and gave the directions.

Culture

We hear so much nowadays about "culture." Culture is all right when you have something to cultivate. First make sure that you have the divine nature, then cultivate it—D. L. Moody.

Day and Evening

Day, like a weary pilgrim, had reached the weary gate of heaven, and Evening stooped down to unlouse the latches of his sandals shoon—Longfellow.

"BEARS" AND "BEARS"

"News from Maine has it that bear hunting will be good this fall, but perhaps it would be well to remind the hunters that the game laws do not permit the shooting of the Oxford bears."

The Boston Transcript is in error, in the foregoing. The laws do permit the shooting of the Oxford bears. The kind that must not be shot are the Oxford Bears—spelled with a capital B. We, the Oxford Bears, will forgive you this time, but—don't do it again.

RUMFORD

John M. Harlow

John M. Harlow, for 25 years proprietor of a saloon, died suddenly at work, Wednesday morning, Oct. 6. He was discovered by a little girl in the neighborhood who thought the man "died" and told a man who investigated and found Mr. Harlow dead at his desk.

Mr. Harlow was born in Canton 75 years ago, the son of Fred and Rebecca (Barber) Harlow and lived in Dixfield before coming here 25 years ago. He was a charter member of Canton I. O. O. F. and will be well remembered by many as a prompter at dances and also as a musician.

The only surviving relative is a son, Fred M. Harlow of Biddeford. Mrs. Harlow died about 19 years ago.

FEED FOR DRY COWS

Dry cows will consume almost as much roughage as those in milk. Silage may well form the principal ingredient of the ration. If given 25 to 40 pounds of clover, alfalfa and about 5 to 6 pounds of clover, corn or alfalfa hay a day, the cows will keep in good flesh and even make some gain. Those in thin flesh should receive in addition a small amount of grain. Some grain during the dry period is often advisable.

Overdoing?

Hurry, Worry and Overwork Bring Heavy Strain.

MODERN life throws a heavy burden on our daily machinery. The eliminative organs, especially the kidneys, are apt to be overworked. Retention of excess uric acid and other poisonous waste often gives rise to a dull, languid feeling and sometimes, to backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning perfectly is often shown by burning or scanty passage of secretions. More and more people are learning to assist their kidneys by the occasional use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Ask your neighbor!
